- CCTV Survey to chimney stacks

Key Challenges & Lessons Learned:

Programme Management: Operating within a live school environment necessitated meticulous planning and scheduling, as well as continuous coordination with school staff. To minimise disruption to daily operations and examination periods, the project team adapted working hours to align with the school's requirements. This flexibility was achieved without compromising the overall project timeline or contractual completion dates.

Enhanced Communication: Daily briefings between the school representative and our site team, along with weekly progress meetings, facilitated proactive planning and ensured alignment on upcoming activities. This consistent communication helped maintain transparency, addressed potential issues early, and supported the smooth progression of works within the live school environment.

Programme Success:

The project was successfully delivered within budget and completed ahead of the original programme schedule. Upon completion, the School's Business Manager praised the experience, stating: "The process from beginning to end has been a very pleasant one. The staff employed by CWG are all extremely good at their jobs. The project was delivered ahead of schedule in a very professional manner."

When asked to describe CWG in three words, the client responded "Efficient, accommodating, profession."
